Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 26-35, drawn to method of making, classified in class 427, subclass 359.
  - II. Claims 48 and 52-58, drawn to composition, classified in class 524, subclass 1+.
  - III. Claims 59-70, drawn to ink receptive substrate, classified in class 428, subclass 32.1.
2. Claims 1-25, 36-41, 42-47 and 49-51 cannot be classified because the claims are not written clearly.
  - A. Claims 1-25: The preamble is directed to an apparatus; however, the body is directed to a composition.
  - B. Claims 36-41: The preamble is directed to a method of printing; however, the body is directed to a composition.
  - C. Claims 42-47: The preamble is directed to an apparatus; however, the body is directed to a composition.
  - D. Claims 49-51: The preamble is directed to a composition; however, the body is directed to an article.
3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
4. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product, (i.e., forming an ink composition using the fusible latex).

5. Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, (i.e., forming a film comprising a fusible latex, and laminating the film onto a substrate).

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. A telephone call was made to W. Bradley Haymond on 04/14/2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

9. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

10. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

11. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
